- With a hub would be able to establish primary and secondary school children holiday workshops.
- Need 20 regular meetings per month.
- Need to provide permanent access and storage for libraries and equipment.
- Would enable smaller textile groups to collectively apply for grants.
- Member associations would retain their own identities and be part of the executive committee of Hunter Fibre Hub.
- Will be great to find a creative space for all to help, share the enriching experience with others and bring disparate groups together.

7 General Business

7.1 This is Not Art (TiNA)

Zephie Cerny advised TiNA 2022 winners were announced last Friday night with all works still online. The WHIP collective arranged finance and hosted. Workshop is coming up on 1 June on how to create an authentic acknowledgement of country free to members with information on website. Partnering with Creative plus business scheduled for 2 June at Newcastle Art Space to be promoted soon.

7.2 Dinner en Blanc

Dr Bransdon raised concern for CN's sponsorship with Dinner en Blanc which was cancelled on 1 April due to rain. The email from Dinner en Blanc dated 4 April advised refunds will not be offered and included details appearing that CN had sponsored the event.

Following the meeting the following update was confirmed:

City of Newcastle supports Newcastle Food month through SBR funding which does not include Dinner en Blanc. Tourism staff purchased advertising space at Dinner en Blanc for Destination awareness and as part of the advertising costs the City of Newcastle logo was included as an additional benefit.

7.3 Potential guest presenters for CCAC:

Cr Duncan asked members and visitors to consider other individuals and organisations that may appreciate an opportunity to present to the committee. Suggestions included Hunter Multicultural Communities which Katerina Skoumbas will follow up on.

7.4 Newcastle Pride update – Pride festival went extremely well. The Gregson Park fair was brilliant with 11,000 attendees and a youth formal. Newcastle Pride also had a float of 80 at the Sydney Mardi Gras.
